Having already published at least three (3) scientific articles, containing some of our best scientific results and published in the journal «INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF PURE MATHEMATICS» of the Arizona National Academy of Sciences (NAUN), we are deeply honored to have benefited from the expertise of a strong team of experts in our field. This experience was repeated with the submission of our current project seeking for eventual publication. The journal's experts thoroughly and meticulously examined the content of our work with their usual care, using anti-plagiarism software. They then provided us with constructive comments, remarks, and suggestions to help us achieve a perfect final version of our article. We wish to express our sincere gratitude to the editor-in-chief, the associate editor, and the team of three reviewers who systematically and meticulously analyzed our entire work, both from a scientific perspective and in terms of its English language. My co-authors and I recommend that all our contacts in the field of scientific research, across all specialties, submit their article proposals to NAUN journals, whose experts possess exceptional qualifications, high professionalism, and unwavering scientific rigor. We therefore declare that we have agreed to make all the suggested modifications and corrections and, furthermore, to highlight these, along with our best improvements included in the manuscript, in a specific color after revision. An uncolored version is also attached.
